

Mrs. L. M. Smidt's Hair Dressing Parlor 822 W. 7th St., Los Angeles

Is where you can get these beauty aids. Superfluous hair permanently and painlessly destroyed on the face and arms by the Follicle Method. Also eyebrows shaped. Treatments given by skilled operators, or can be used at home. They also dye the Eyebrows and Eyelashes permanently by a harmless process.

You need not dye your hair any more for Mrs. L. M. Smidt's Special Treatment will restore the hair to its normal color. It is not a dye, and can be used at home. Write for full information regarding these treatments.

Confessions of a Bride

(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

Brisk Walk Is Recommended for Every Jealous Woman

I let my misery surge over me in

Beautify the Complexion

IN TEN DAYS

Nadinola CREAM

The Unequaled Beautifier

Used and Endorsed

By Thousands

Guaranteed to remove tan, freckles, pimples, liver-spots, etc. Extraordinary cases 20 days.

Rids pores and tissues of impurities.

Leaves the skin clear, soft, healthy. At leading toilet counters. If they haven't it, by mail, two sizes, 60c. and $1.20.

NATIONAL TOILET CO., Paris, Tenn.

Sold by Sun Drug Co. and Boston

Store.

Beautiful Actress Attributes Her Wonderful Success to Her Famous Complexion Tells How You Also May Have One

MISS DOROTHY DALTON

New York.—When Miss Dorothy Dalton, the beautiful actress who was selected for the leading role in that mammoth New York production, "Aphrodite," was questioned as to the secret of her phenomenal success, she unhesitatingly said, "My complexion." When asked further details she explained: "Every one of my friends always raved about the texture and coloring of my skin, and I have no doubt but that my first engagement was made possible through the reputation I had acquired for a beautiful complexion. Managers are like ordinary mortals, they admire a beautiful skin as much as anyone, and in selecting their casts they naturally prefer those whose complexions are attractive. I think the best asset any girl or woman can have is a beautiful skin and complexion. It is easy to have this if one will spend only a little time in taking care of the skin. A girl may have irregular features, but if she possesses a beautiful complexion she will attract attention anywhere. I am always glad to tell any girl or woman just how she may possess a skin like mine. Here is the recipe: Night and morning cleanse the skin first with warm water, then apply a good cold cream (Liska cold cream I have found to be the best) after massaging it into the skin, take off the superfluous cream with a soft cloth. Then before going out during the day or evening I apply Derwillo, a simple toilet preparation which can be purchased at the toilet counter of any up-to-date drug or department store. The first application of this wonderful Derwillo will astonish you. It imparts instant beauty to the skin and makes a rosy-white complexion—every one will talk about it. I find it excellent for my complexion as it protects my skin in all kinds of weather. That's why I prefer it to all other toilet preparations and am never without it. Now that short sleeves are in vogue you will want beautiful hands and arms. There is nothing like Derwillo for this purpose. Many of my professional friends to whom I have recommended Derwillo use it in preference to all other face powders or beautifiers." Just try it once before going to the theater, dances, parties or an afternoon call and note the favorable comments of your friends. Derwillo instantly puts a life-like tint on your cheeks which defies detection. It takes the place of face powder and stays on until you wash it off. Perspiration does not affect it nor will it rub off on clothing; it also prevents the nose and face from shining. It's wonderful for a dark, sallow, rough skin, blemishes, coarse pores, oily skin, freckles and for the instant beauty it imparts. Over 500,000 girls and women are using it. It's absolutely harmless to the most sensitive skin. Just try it once and you will need no further argument to convince you that there is nothing just as good, "better," or "just like it." Insist on Derwillo, then you will not be disappointed.

NOTE—Druggists and department stores everywhere sell Derwillo with the guarantee that if you don't like it you get your money back. It is the one beautifier that gives satisfaction at all seasons of the year. You can secure it at all toilet counters in this city including Kimball & Hulett.

dark waves as soon as Ann had left me. I had lied to protect my husband, and I had sacrificed the truth in vain. For if that babe, Ann, could see through my (3), probably Deborah could! I tore the exquisite handkerchief, with its horrid initials, "K. O. M." into shreds. Then I laid the tatters on my husband's pillow.

Had I a right to ask him to explain? Or had I, his wife, only the right to trust him, and never the right to question his conduct? Must I discard all my suspicions and lie to save myself from disillusionment, as I had lied to the girls to protect Bob?

"No! I'll be 'hors concours'—not competing—with Katherine Miller or any other woman," I said to myself. "I'm Bob's wife, his partner, his equal and I know very well the dignity of my position. I'll not question Bob! He can tell me about this handkerchief when he gets ready!"

It was a wise conclusion, I know. Womanlike, I left the handkerchief where Bob couldn't find it. Even though I never referred to it, I wanted Bob to see that new steel had been added to our flaming quarrel.

Was any woman in the world as unhappy as I? I wondered.

As soon as I discovered that I was actually feeling sorry for myself, I held my head high and decided to take a walk in the air. That exercise is to be recommended to every jealous woman. It makes the brain clearer and the judgment fairer.

But it took an effort of will to force myself to tramp in the park. I really preferred to nurse my woes; my mind whirled around them. I hugged them to me. I couldn't bear to part with them.

I was most absurd, I told myself, to cling so to my sorrow. I was a fool, as I had said to Ann. To be a real sport, as she had called me, I must make a deliberate effort to throw off my distressing reflections.

Prayer will help some women to do this; and there are several new thought and concentration processes, but all of them, even prayer, must be backed by the personal wish for relief, for forgetting.

Getting up the courage to part with my sick mood was the most difficult step in my cure. Once I had persuaded myself to try out Deb's idea of sublimation, I went to work at it desperately. I snatched up my hat, and rushed out of doors. I would walk until I was tired. When I had grown tired, I would think of dear Deb's starved love life, and not of my own. And I would plan to help her.

But between my woes and Deb's my mind swung like a pendulum. Wasn't I foolish to worry about which man Deb might marry? If a girl didn't adore her husband, why, he never could hurt her by carrying another woman's handkerchief next his heart! To be sure, I had no proof that Bob ever had carried Katherine's kerchief there!

Finally, by a supreme effort, but one not beyond the strength of any jealous woman, I kept my thoughts on my friend's affairs instead of on my own. Paul Van Eyck was interfering with Ted Moore's chances. Plainly, Paul ought to be sidetracked.

Why, I could do that myself! Of all the younger matrons, I was the one to whom Van paid the most attention. I hurried home, sat down at my desk and wrote a short note to Van.

Bahama Island fishermen have been destroying the flamingos with so much abandon that the British government has taken action to save the long-necked birds.

There are about 300 former service men who came out of the war deaf or dumb.

Mike Mole shook his head sternly. "No, of course you can't stay at home."

On the way he met Floppy Field Mouse, and Floppy was looking as though all his friends had moved to the North Star and left him alone. He was swinging his books by their strap as though he'd like to give them one extra hard swing and land them in a tree-top where he'd never see them again.

Why? He'd just heard that the corn over at Smith's was getting ripe and as sweet as the inside of your sugar-bowl.

He, too, had coaxed to stay home that day, but Munchie Mouse, his father, had stopped emptying the garbage-cans in Maple-tree Flats long enough to give him a lecture on steadiness and promptness and reliability and things like that, which is most unsatisfying when the corn's ripe and your back teeth are fairly watering for it.

The Mole boy bumped right into the Mouse boy, both looking as glum as blue Monday.

"Lo," said Muff.

"Lo," answered Flop.

And they trudged glumly on together.

friend's affairs instead of on my own. Paul Van Eyck was interfering with Ted Moore's chances. Plainly, Paul ought to be sidetracked.

Why, I could do that myself! Of all the younger matrons, I was the one to whom Van paid the most attention. I hurried home, sat down at my desk and wrote a short note to Van.

Bahama Island fishermen have been destroying the flamingos with so much abandon that the British government has taken action to save the long-necked birds.

There are about 300 former service men who came out of the war deaf or dumb.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barten

MUFF MOLE MEETS FLOPPY MOUSE

"Daddy," coaxed Muff Mole one morning as he was starting off to the Meadow Grove school, "please let me stay at home today, won't you? After the storm yesterday it's fine worm-hunting, and besides I'm sick of lessons."

Mike Mole shook his head sternly. "No, of course you can't stay at home."

On the way he met Floppy Field Mouse, and Floppy was looking as though all his friends had moved to the North Star and left him alone. He was swinging his books by their strap as though he'd like to give them one extra hard swing and land them in a tree-top where he'd never see them again.

Why? He'd just heard that the corn over at Smith's was getting ripe and as sweet as the inside of your sugar-bowl.

He, too, had coaxed to stay home that day, but Munchie Mouse, his father, had stopped emptying the garbage-cans in Maple-tree Flats long enough to give him a lecture on steadiness and promptness and reliability and things like that, which is most unsatisfying when the corn's ripe and your back teeth are fairly watering for it.

The Mole boy bumped right into the Mouse boy, both looking as glum as blue Monday.

"Lo," said Muff.

"Lo," answered Flop.

And they trudged glumly on together.

friend's affairs instead of on my own. Paul Van Eyck was interfering with Ted Moore's chances. Plainly, Paul ought to be sidetracked.

Why, I could do that myself! Of all the younger matrons, I was the one to whom Van paid the most attention. I hurried home, sat down at my desk and wrote a short note to Van.

Bahama Island fishermen have been destroying the flamingos with so much abandon that the British government has taken action to save the long-necked birds.

There are about 300 former service men who came out of the war deaf or dumb.

Mike Mole shook his head sternly. "No, of course you can't stay at home."

On the way he met Floppy Field Mouse, and Floppy was looking as though all his friends had moved to the North Star and left him alone. He was swinging his books by their strap as though he'd like to give them one extra hard swing and land them in a tree-top where he'd never see them again.

Why? He'd just heard that the corn over at Smith's was getting ripe and as sweet as the inside of your sugar-bowl.

He, too, had coaxed to stay home that day, but Munchie Mouse, his father, had stopped emptying the garbage-cans in Maple-tree Flats long enough to give him a lecture on steadiness and promptness and reliability and things like that, which is most unsatisfying when the corn's ripe and your back teeth are fairly watering for it.

The Mole boy bumped right into the Mouse boy, both looking as glum as blue Monday.

"Lo," said Muff.

"Lo," answered Flop.

And they trudged glumly on together.

friend's affairs instead of on my own. Paul Van Eyck was interfering with Ted Moore's chances. Plainly, Paul ought to be sidetracked.

Why, I could do that myself! Of all the younger matrons, I was the one to whom Van paid the most attention. I hurried home, sat down at my desk and wrote a short note to Van.

Bahama Island fishermen have been destroying the flamingos with so much abandon that the British government has taken action to save the long-necked birds.

There are about 300 former service men who came out of the war deaf or dumb.

Mike Mole shook his head sternly. "No, of course you can't stay at home."

On the way he met Floppy Field Mouse, and Floppy was looking as though all his friends had moved to the North Star and left him alone. He was swinging his books by their strap as though he'd like to give them one extra hard swing and land them in a tree-top where he'd never see them again.

Why? He'd just heard that the corn over at Smith's was getting ripe and as sweet as the inside of your sugar-bowl.

He, too, had coaxed to stay home that day, but Munchie Mouse, his father, had stopped emptying the garbage-cans in Maple-tree Flats long enough to give him a lecture on steadiness and promptness and reliability and things like that, which is most unsatisfying when the corn's ripe and your back teeth are fairly watering for it.

The Mole boy bumped right into the Mouse boy, both looking as glum as blue Monday.

"Lo," said Muff.

"Lo," answered Flop.

And they trudged glumly on together.

friend's affairs instead of on my own. Paul Van Eyck was interfering with Ted Moore's chances. Plainly, Paul ought to be sidetracked.

Why, I could do that myself! Of all the younger matrons, I was the one to whom Van paid the most attention. I hurried home, sat down at my desk and wrote a short note to Van.

Bahama Island fishermen have been destroying the flamingos with so much abandon that the British government has taken action to save the long-necked birds.

There are about 300 former service men who came out of the war deaf or dumb.

Mike Mole shook his head sternly. "No, of course you can't stay at home."

On the way he met Floppy Field Mouse, and Floppy was looking as though all his friends had moved to the North Star and left him alone. He was swinging his books by their strap as though he'd like to give them one extra hard swing and land them in a tree-top where he'd never see them again.

Why? He'd just heard that the corn over at Smith's was getting ripe and as sweet as the inside of your sugar-bowl.

He, too, had coaxed to stay home that day, but Munchie Mouse, his father, had stopped emptying the garbage-cans in Maple-tree Flats long enough to give him a lecture on steadiness and promptness and reliability and things like that, which is most unsatisfying when the corn's ripe and your back teeth are fairly watering for it.

The Mole boy bumped right into the Mouse boy, both looking as glum as blue Monday.

"Lo," said Muff.

"Lo," answered Flop.

Attention Women!

Mrs. A. Genevieve Oakes comes to us from Denver, Colo., to make her home in the city of sunshine and flowers and as she says where health and beauty should reign with Nature. She has worked and trained under Dr. H. K. Law of San Francisco for a number of years, this summer having lectured on the subject of Health in all the principal cities of Arizona. She will talk to women only at 206 Monihan Bldg., Friday, Sept. 24, at 3 p. m.

POSITIVELY STOPS FALLING HAIR

Lavagator the scalp—promotes a most luxuriant growth and doubles the beauty of the hair in a few weeks.

Lucky Tiger—the Nation's Hair Remedy—quickly cures dandruff and scalp-eczema. A wonderful dressing used by millions. Try it today. For sale at all leading Barber shops, or send the for trial bottle. Single application will convince.

LUCY TIGER DANDRUFF CO., Kansas City, Mo.

The Beauty of The Lily can be yours. It's wonderfully pure, soft, pearly white appearance, free from all blemishes, will be comparable to the perfect beauty of your skin and complexion if you will use

Gouraud's Oriental Cream

Send 15c for Trial Size. FERT. T. HOPKINS & SON, New York

The Last Corn

When you end your corn with Blue-jay, it will be the last corn you let grow.

You will know how to stop the pain. And how to quickly and completely end all corns.

There are millions who use Blue-jay now, and they never let a corn remain.

The new-day way

Blue-jay is the new-day way, the scientific method.

It was perfected in a laboratory world-famed for its surgical dressings.

It is supplanting the many treatments which are harsh and inefficient.

It has made paring as ridiculous as it is unsafe, for paring doesn't end corns.

Do this tonight:

Apply to a corn a Blue-jay plaster or liquid Blue-jay—whichever you prefer.

Mark how the pain stops. Then wait a little and the corn will loosen and come out.

© R. B. 1920

What 'hat corn does all corns will do. Some 20 million corns a year are ended in this way.

Don't suffer corns. Don't have your feet disfigured. They can be ended almost as easily as a dirt-spot on your face. They are just as inexcusable.

Don't forget this. It means too much to you.

Ask your druggist for Blue-jay.

Blue-jay
Plaster or Liquid
The Scientific Corn Ender

BAUER & BLACK Chicago New York Toronto
Makers of Sterile Surgical Dressings and Allied Products

Wings of the morning!

The extra cheer you get from good coffee doesn't cost you anything extra. So why not have it?

Schilling Coffee costs more per pound than ordinary coffee, but about the same per cup—a pound makes so many more cups.

This is why we say: the cheer doesn't cost you anything extra.

So again: Why not have it?

Schilling Coffee